GIRLS CRASH PREVIEW IN SWANKY CHINESE THEATER

HOLLYWOOD, (UP)—All the make-up men with all the rouge in Hollywood couldn't turn the film capital's face as red as a couple of sorority girls did last night.

Beth Ann Stevens and Barbara Coutourier crashed one of those ultra-swank—and non-crashable, they say—movie premiers.

The great and the near-great at the Chinese Theater fell for their act and they walked in with Charlie Chaplin and Paulette Goddard. They chatted casually with such folks as Rosalind Russell, Adolph Menjou, John Garfield, and many another.

"Mile A Second" Mail Rockets Visioned

NEW YORK (UP)—Dr. Clyde Fisher, astronomer and curator-in-chief of the Hayden planetarium, predicted today the early establishment of "mile-a-second" rocket express and mail service to be followed, in the indefinite future, by rocket voyages to outer space.

Dr. Fisher, speaking in connection with an exhibit of rocket air mail stamps and postage covers in the time and space building at the world's fair, said the use of rockets for "many practical uses." was entirely feasible.

SNYDER GIVEN PRISON TERM

Forger's Application For Probation Denied On Friday Morning

Adam Eugene Snyder, 54, was sentenced Friday morning to serve an indeterminate term (one to fourteen years) at San Quentin prison following his plea that he is guilty of forgery as charged in a Grand Jury indictment. Application for probation was denied.

Snyder, who stated in court that he had been a sales manager in San Francisco and Oakland whose pay ran as high as $7,500 a year, was represented by an attorney appointed by the court upon his own application and upon his statement to the court that he was without funds to employ counsel.

T. S. Marlor was his lawyer.

The hearing Friday morning was on the accused's application for probation and for passing sentence. The report of Probation Officer Charles W. Ball recommended that probation be denied and the recommendation was followed by the court.

In the taking of the statutory statement prior to the passing of sentence, Snyder revealed he is a college graduate and had been successful as a sales manager in San Francisco and Oakland.

He and his wife separated—they have two chlidren—and Snyder stated he deeded property to her of a value of approximately $30,000 at the time of their separation.

Then "good times" ended. Subsequently he married again and took to drinking to which he attributed to some degree his present condition.

He had served county jail terms in Los Angeles and at Reno on similar charges and authorities reported he now has other checks outstanding in Placer county and in Nevada.

The second Mrs. Snyder was not in court.

She was in his company when he was taken into custody about two weeks ago near Folsom by members

HOUSE PASSES HATCH BILL

Republican-Democrat Coalition Defeats Administration Group

WASHINGTON, (UP)—The senate receives the Hatch "clean politics" bill for concurrence in minor house changes today. Then is goes to President Roosevelt for his signature or veto.

Mr. Roosevelt's position on the bill is not known. It is designed to separate politics from relief and prohibits all federal government employes except the President, the vice president, cabinet officers, and other policy making officials from all political activity, including participation in presidential nominating conventions. It could cripple a national political machine.

The bill was passed by the house late last night after its opponents had used every parliamentary maneuver they could think of to defeat it. The vote was 242 to 133.

As many times before during this session, opposition of the administration was handicapped by the failure of its members to remain in the chamber to oppose a coalition of Republicans and conservative Democrats.

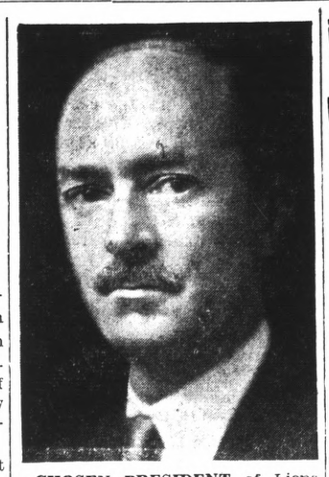

On the final roll call 83 democrats and two progressives joined with all the republicans present—157—to vote for passage. It was opposed by 132 democrats and one American laborite.

BERT FREY DEALER FOR FRIGIDAIRES, BUICKS TOO

NEW YORKER TO LEAD LIONS

Alexander T. Wells Succeeds Dexter As International President

PITTSBURGH—A new King Lion was crowned today when the international convention of Lions Clubs unanimously elected Alexander T. T. Wells of New York City president of Lions International. Wells, who is a lawyer, served the past year as first vice president and was United States representative upon the International Council of Lions Clubs. He succeeds retiring president Walter F. Dexter, state superintendent of public instruction in California.

The voting concluded a four-day convention climaxing the association's greatest year of growth. In the past twelve months charters were issued to 557 new Lions Clubs, an all-time high, and more than 17,000 net gain in membership was reported to the convention by Secretary General Melvin Jones of Chicago. Lions Clubs are now the most numerous service club in the United States and Canada. There are 3,500 in the association, with a membership of 125,000.

The new president is a native of New York City where he has always lived. He was educated in the public schools and at St. Lawrence Academy, New York; Dwight Preparatory School and the New York Law School. He has been a member of the Bar of the State of New York for the past thirty-three years.

Wells has held many offices both in his own Lions Club and in the International Association. He is a past district governor of New York state, has served on the board of directors, was chairman of the committee on international relationships for one year, and in 1936 was elected third vice president. In succeeding years he has been unanimously elected to fill the second and first vice presidencies.

WINTER PEAR VOTE NEARS

Ballots Being Mailed To Growers From S. F. Headquarters

SAN FRANCISCO — California growers will have opportunity to vote beginning next week on a Federal marketing agreement and order for Pacific Coast winter pears, tentative approval of which has just been given by the Secretary of Agriculture.

Ballots are now being mailed to all known growers of winter pears, it was announced today by the Division of Marketing and Marketing Agreements, U. S. Department of Agriculture, at San Francisco headquarters, 112 Market Street.

Developed at the request of growers and shippers, the new program replaces a similar one which operated during the 1938-39 marketing season and terminated June 1, 1937.

Tentative approval by the Secretary of Agriculture follows a series of public hearings held last May in California, Washington and Oregon at which growers and shippers considered the new program.

Arrangements to handle locally voting by growers who do not receive ballots through the mail are now made, and growers will be notified of polling places as soon as possible.

The proposed program includes the following major provisions: 1. Regulation of pear shipments by minimum grades and sizes named in the agreement; 2. Provision for changing such minimum grades and sizes after the first year of the program's operation; 3. Federal-State inspection of pears shipped interstate or in foreign commerce; 4. Proration of administrative expenses among handlers; 5. Exemption of pears shipped for gift purposes; 6. Establishment of an administrative committee of 12 members and their alternates, comprising one grower and one shipper member and alternate from each of the two districts in each of the three states.

$70,000 IN MUNITIONS BOUGHT FOR SALE IN MEXICO

LOS ANGELES, (UP) — Cannons, shells, hand-grenades and miscellaneous armament sufficient to equip a battalion were en route to Mexico today.

The $70,000 worth of arms recently found cached in a Los Angeles warehouse reportedly were purchased by a syndicate of Mexican businessmen for possible resale to their government.

The identity of the Mexicans, as well as that of the former owners, was not revealed. Maj. R. L. Dineley of San Francisco said he acted as agent but had not owned the cache.

The Los Angeles county assessor's office planned a public auction of the weapons yesterday but a few hours before the event, Maj. Dineley arrived and paid a $1,356 tax bill. He said the new owners supplied the money.

The arms were taken away in trucks. They included trench mortars, field artillery, steel helmets, bayonets and ammunition.

LOWER MEAT PRICES SEEN IN PIG CROP FORECAST

WASHINGTON, (UP)—Lower meat prices are forecast by a department of agriculture report showing prospective substantial increases in meat supplies this fall, particularly in pork.

A six-year record crop of hogs will move to market within the next few months, the report said. Supplies of pork and other hog products will be 15 to 20 per cent larger than last year, it was estimated.

Prices of slaughter hogs, cattle and lambs have dipped sharply since mid-April. Supplies of hogs on farms are the largest since 1933. Cattle supplies are only slightly larger than last year, while lamb supplies are about the same.

B. E. Haslam, agricultural conservation association secretary, was in the Clarksville section Friday interviewing range operators.

THOMAS EARNS PROMOTION

Junior Forester Will Be Assistant Ranger On Trinity Forest

Leon Thomas, junior forester on Eldorado Forest since November of 1936, leaves over the weekend for the headquarters of Trinity National Forest, at Weaverville, to accept an advancement to the position of assistant ranger.

Thomas will be succeeded on Eldorado Forest by Dan Johnson, of San Francisco.

During almost three years of residence in Placerville, Thomas has been active as a member of the Placerville Ski Club and has served on numerous committees of the club and was secretary of the organization last year.

Prevailed upon to be a candidate for the office this year, Thomas, perhaps with some hope of winning promotion and the possibility of being assigned to some other forest, declined to accept the office for another term.

Although his official service on Eldorado Forest dates from 1936, Thomas was on the forest two or three years prior to that time, employed in timber cruising.

His many friends in the ski club and his other acquaintances will join in wishing him every success in his new post.

VOLZ NAMED CHAIRMAN OF FARM BUREAU DEPARTMENT

The appointment of George H. Volz to be chairman of the deciduous fruit department of the county Farm Bureau was announced on Friday by James A. Irving, county Farm Bureau president.

CAMPFIRE CARELESSNESS BRINGS TEN-DAY JAIL TERM

E. S. Brady, 26, found guilty before Justice of the Peace Dwight Martin, at Al Tahoe, on a charge of leaving a campfire unattended, was sentenced to pay a fine of $25 or serve ten days in the county jail.

He was brought to Placerville from Lake Valley Thursday evening by Constable Fred Brenzel, and lodged in jail.

Brady's camp fire is reported to have been the cause of a recent small fire in the Lake Valley district, which was controlled by the suppression crew.

Home Brew "Barrage" Quelled By Sheriff

EMPORIA, Kans., (UP)—Dan Howland, sheriff of Lyon county confiscated 270 bottles of home brew in a raid at a farm house. They were placed in a store room and in the heat of a summer day, began to explode. About half of the number blew up before Howland's deputies could stop the firing. They took the rest to the Cottonwood River.

FIRE HAZARD INCREASING

Lower Humidity Forecast Holds Promise Of Greater Danger During Weekend

THE state and federal forest offices in Placerville reported Friday noon there were no known fires in the county.

Eldorado Forest headquarters reported a small fire at Phillips Resort where one of the cabins caught fire, presumably from the chimney about 7 o'clock this morning. The Meyers Station suppression crew quickly extinguished the blaze and damage was nominal.

SACRAMENTO, (UP)—Fire crews throughout California's central valleys dug in for another day's battle with a total of eight range and forest fires today, with little help from the weather expected.

An abnormally low humidity rating of 10 points was predicted, making the heat hore bearable for city dwellers but spelling real trouble for fire fighters, forestry officials said.

Fire lines were completed around some of the fires, but, among, others, a stubborn blaze in Tehama county still was burning after three days. Fifty men were added to a crew of 200 this morning and three tank trucks were held at Red Bluff to protect a dozen ranch homes being threatened in Lane's Valley settlement. The fire had blackened 3,500 acres.

Just south, in Colusa county, a 1000 acre fire that started last night was believed under control this morning after destroying several small cabins.

In Shasta county, nearly 50 men patrolled a fire near Ono. Another at Happy Valley, however, was believed "dead out."

A quick overnight blaze in Santa Clara County, near the estate of Violinist Yehudi Menuhin, still was being guarded by 75 men today after fire lines were completed.

In the San Joaquin area, a Sequoia National Park blaze was watched closely, though believed under control. In Sierra National Forest, federal forestry men directed CCC crews in an attempt to clean up a fire that has burned over 4000 acres in two days, including 150 acres of pine.

F.R. HITS VOTE ON NEUTRALITY

Chance For Business Revival Missed, He Tells Press Conference

HYDE PARK, N. Y., (UP)—President Roosevelt said today that refusal of the senate to act at this session on neutrality has killed off a nice little business boom and will have an adverse economic effect until next January.

Mr. Roosevelt, speaking at a press conference, again emphasized that full responsibility for refusal to revise the neutrality law must be accepted by the senate. The senate, he said, is gambling against the possibility of war this year, and the result of its refusal to act will have an adverse economic effect.

With the international situation and its effects on this country highly uncertain, the President said, the business men of the nation will hesitate to make commitments because they can have no idea of what form of neutrality bill will take if congress acts on the issue when it meets again next January.

Accepting the fact that the senate will not act, Mr. Roosevelt said, all he can do now is pray that there will not be another serious crisis in Europe before congress meets again. He said, however, that a crisis alone would not force him to convene congress for a special session, pointing out that other crises have come and gone without developing actual war.

Italian Train Travels 126 Miles An Hour

The train hit a top speed of 126 miles an hour, believed to be a world record. The train is an aultra-modern two-coach electric flier.

"FISH" THAT DROPS "EGG" MYSTIFIES ALL BUT AIRMEN

LOS ANGELES.—New industries in America have always meant new and strange vocabularies for the men engaged in them, points out Edwin R. Coulson, head of the Santa Monica Junior College's English department, and currently lecturing at the University of California Summer Session.

The aeroplane industry is particularly illustrative of this tendency, believes Coulson, who has made an intensive search during the past year of newly coined words and phrases used by workers at a Santa Monica aircraft factory.

"In some cases," he says, "the words or terms are familiar and in common usage; the differences is one of connotation or transference of meaning. Others are a direct result of a desire to create a word or term which will define adequately a new procedure or a new mode in the recent developed industry.

"To the uninitiated it must be explained that 'berth control' is a key for opening berths on a sleeper plane; to 'cap a Sunday' is to strike a person; a 'dead man' is a ring that is anchored in cement; and 'eggs' are bombs. A 'fish' is a berth in a sleeper plane, and so far as an aeronautical worker is concerned, you don't lose your temper, you 'pop your cork.'"

THE Book Mark

By JANE VOILES

When you have heard enough about the "Okies" and migratory labor and the problems at home, look into John Gunther's last book "Inside Asia." Gunther does some super-reportorial writing about Asiatic politics and economics and about the personalities that are guiding the destinies of Asia today.

In a recent copy of "Life" mazazine, you may remember the pictures of Hirohito, Emperor of Japan. The Emperor is held in so much reverence by his people that democratic Americans can scarcely understand what it is all about. Japanese even believe in the divinity of the Emperor and this belief, Mr. Gunther says, is a powerful political weapon. Unlike the King of Denmark, the Emperor's name does not appear in the telephone book. Indeed no Tokyo American newspaperman has yet succeeded in interviewing him.

The Emperor of Japan is the richest man in the world. He is an excellent swimmer and plays golf and tennis. Collecting specimens of marine biology is one of his hobbies, photography is another. Gunther relates many curious customs that cling to the life of the emperor, for example, he never wears any colthes twice, not even underwear.

Japan, says Mr. Gunther is on the march and only force or "a social upheaval following a military disaster" can stop her.

Resemblances and differences in the Japanese and Chinese are shown by Mr. Gunther. Both are Asiatic with Mongol origin and yellow skins. Both venerate their ancestors and hold the family system in high regard. The Japanese use the Chinese alphabet but the Chinese cannot, as a rule, read Japanese. Japanese are short, Chinese are taller. The Japanese dress in colorful clothes, the Chinese in rather drab clothes. Japanese are good at baseball and tennis, Chinese take no interest in sports. Opium is not smoked by the Japanese but is readily sold to the Chinese.

China is in the process of dying in one part and coming to life in another. Mr. Gunther gives a vivid picture of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek who weighs 141 pounds, is an early riser and likes to listen to Schubert's "Ave Maria." If the Japanese ever get hold of Chiang Kai-Shek they will kill him as he is the one man capable of holding China together. His wife is the colorful Madame Chiang of the famous Soong family, — is China's No. 2 individual. Like Mrs. Roosevelt she goes everywhere and does everything.

In the Philippines, Mr. Gunther saw Manuel Quezon who is the play boy among dictators, fond of good clothes and good food and one of the best poker players in the world. But Quezon is on the job and he will not be caught and squeezed out of power if he can help it.

Gandhi, Mr. Gunther describes as "an incredible combination of Jesus Christ, Tammany Hall and your father." Without a doubt he is the greatest man in India since Budda. Incidentally he has a wife who is small and cheerful and looks like a Dresden China shepherdess.

The Aga Khan who is not the ruler of a territory but of a sect and is a lineal descendant of the prophet Mohamed, likes to drink. Drink is forbidden to Mohammedans. The Aga gets around that by saying that "wine turns to water as soon as it touches his mouth."

Mr. Gunther has a chapter devoted to the man with the Arabian Night-ish title "the Shah of Iran" who is a despot in his country. The Arabian world and the present status of the Mohammedan faith are described. The work of the Zionist Dr. Chaim Weizmann is discussed at length.

Rich in resources and undeveloped, Asia has been the loot of Europe. Poverty is widespread in spite of the riches and the birthrate is shockingly high. The chief factors to be reckoned with in the future of Asia, Mr. Gunther claims, are the desire for independence and a probable struggle for democracy. Personalities are all important today. "What would contemporary China be without Chiang Kai-Shek, India without Gandhi, the Philippines without Mr. Quezon, Arabia without Ibn Saud?

"Inside Asia" was over two years in the making. Mr. Gunther traveled 30,000 miles by steamship, railway, plane and motor in order to explore his territory. You will find it one of those rare books that entertains and instructs at the same time.

Sports Parade

By HENRY McLEMORE

NTW YORK, (LP)—This week a fife and drum corps.

Last week a mile race between Cunningham and the twins Rideout.

Next week—well, it is likely to be East Lynne, because there is no telling what Leland Stanford MacPhail will offer in an effort to get the customers in Ebbets Field to watch the Brooklyn Dodgers play.

Vaudeville isn't dead at all. It has just removed itself across the river to Brooklyn where MacPhail is determined to make money out of a ball club even if the playing of baseball is relegated to the rear. The Dodgers may be in fifth place in the National League but they are tops in variety's boxscore. It won't be long before that Bible of the theatrical trade will be covering the Brooklyn performances in its column "new acts."

Since he took charge of the Dodgers, MacPhail has put on almost everything as a pre-game attraction. He has had chamber music, foot races, soloists, tight-rope walkers, and now there is a report that he is dickering for the parachute jump at the world's fair. He wants it, or so the rumor goes, removed to Ebbets field for the purpose of giving each ticket purchaser a free ride. He wants as his first customers his two pet peeves, Bill Terry and Ford Frick. If he could get this pair in the parachute, he would leave them stranded much longer than were the unfortunate couple at the world's fair, and would personally shoot any mechanics who attempted to get them down.

MacPhail is running the Brooklyns with the finesse of a carnival barker, and is getting results. That is, he is making more money than almost any other club in the league, despite a team that is in the second division now and will be in the second division when the season ends. His belief is that baseball is a business, not a sport, and a tail-end club that makes money is more to be desired than a first place club that doesn't.

He is about as popular with the other league owners as a corsage of poison ivy would be with a nudist They consider him fresh, brash, radical, and a screwball. This is not surprising, because the average National League owner or operator frowns on progress as something that has no place in the game of baseball. They operate on the theory that anything good enough for their forefathers is good enough for them.

MacPhail will take another step toward something on Sunday when he employs the yellow ball in the game with the Cardinals. MacPhail doesn't know whether the yellow ball is any good or not, but he does not believe its merits or demerits ever will be settled by studying it behind a roll top desk in the front office. He wants to get it out there in a game and find out by experiment how it works, and whether or not it is more visible to the spectators and players.

MacPhail has been a hustler and a chance taker for many a year. He was a member of that brave but giddy band of Americans who attempted to kidnap the Kaiser shortly after the World War. It is a shame that the plan didn't go thru. If it had MacPhail would have the old gentleman from Doorn playing in the Brooklyn outfield right now, or chopping wood as an extra added attraction at night games, or something.

WINTER PEAR VOTE NEAR

Adoption of the program by the industry involves a two-thirds favorable vote of growers in the referendum, and signature by handlers representing at least 50 per cent of the volume of fruit shipped inter state and in foreign commerce.

If the necessary grower vote and shipper signatures are obtained, the program will receive final approval by the Secretary of Agriculture, resulting in issuance of an order embodying the marketing agreement and making the plan applicable to all handlers.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Anderson spent Sunday at the Lake.

Miss Adela Beach spent the week end at San Francisco.

of the California Highway Patrol in response to an "'all points" bulletin broadcast by the office of Sheriff George M. Smith.

The Snyders had been staying for a few days at Hotel Raffles under the name of "Rudder" and during their stay three checks had been cashed. Hotel Manager L. A. Raffetto telephoned the San Mateo bank on which the checks were drawn and learned that no such account was carried with the bank.

Raffetto notified the sheriff's office and Deputy Ralph Jones investigated the case, finding that the Snyders had departed. In a search of the room they had occupied, he found a receipt for the purchase of gasoline which gave the license number of their car and Snyder's arrest at Folsom followed.

He subsequently confessed and was indicted by the grand jury.

STUDEBAKER SALES FOR 1939 FAR AHEAD OF LAST YEAR

According to C. S. Collins, local Studebaker dealer and truck distributor, the first six months of 1939 showed a gain in sales in El Dorado County, over the same period of 1938, of 186 per cent. In commenting on the increase, Mr. Collins attributes it to the introduction of the Champion, a new car produced by Studebaker to sell in the low price field and a better setup in sales organization.

Automobile sales for the entire industry on the Pacific Coast during the month of June were considerably ahead of a year ago. Likewise, figures for the first half of 1938 show substantial increase over the first six months of 1938.

The industry's gain in California for June was 40.4 per cent ahead of June last year. The first six months of 1939 show a 38.4 per cent lead over the same period in 1938, according to figures just released by Donnelley's Motor Recorder. While final figures for the eleven western states have not been released for the six-month period, Motor West reports an increase of $35.3 per cent for the first five months on the Pacific Coast.

Studebaker's sales for June and for the first six months show a percentage gain far above that of the industry as a whole. Figures just released by C. K. Whittaker, resident of the Studebaker Pacific Corporation, show that in June Studebaker retail sales went 156.2 per cent ahead of June last year. The gain for this manufacturer for the first half of the year was 82.8 per cent above 1938.

Brewery Reports Sales Gains For 1939

Achieving a gain that equals the entire output of many a brewery, Acme Breweries today announced that its sales for the first six months of 1939 were 740,089 gallons ahead of this same period in 1938. "Acme Beer has led in sales ever since repeal in its total output of 7,017,375 gallons for six months sets an all-time record among Western brewers," states Karl F. Schuster, president of Acme Breweries.

This gain coincides with the company's largest investment in newspaper advertising and is all the more significant in a period when the brewing industry as a whole reports a slight sales decline.

Asa: A Life of Trust

HIGHLIGHTS ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for July 23 is II Chronicles 14 and 16, the Golden Text being II Chronicles 14:11, "Help us, O Lord our God; for we rest on thee.")

KING REHOBOAM, who was the subject of last week's lesson, "slept with his fathers and was buried in the city of David: and Abijah, his son, reigned in his stead." Abijah did battle against Jeroboam and defeated him and took from him many cities, but he too passed away, and his son, Asa, reigned over Judah.

Asa "did that which was right in the eyes of the Lord his God." He broke the images that had been erected to strange gods, took down the altars and cut down the groves. His realm was full of peace for ten years and in that time he built fenced cities with walls, towers, gates and bars so that, the story says, "they built and prospered."

Asa had a good-sized army, but after these peaceful years he was attacked by Zerah, the Ethiopian, who had many more men and chariots than did Asa, the account says a thousand thousand—or a million. It probably means only a great host.

Badly Outnumbered

The two armies faced each other in the valley of Zephathah, at Mareshah. So badly outnumbered was Asa that he "cried unto the Lord his God, and said: 'Lord, it is nothing to thee to help, whether with many or with them that have no power: help us, O Lord our God; for we rest on Thee, and in Thy name we go against this multitude. O Lord, Thou art our God; let not man prevail against Thee'."

And the Lord "smote the Ethiopians before Asa and before Judah; and the Ethiopians fled." Thus Asa proved that obedience to what he knew was right and faith in God brought its reward.

But Asa did not all his life obey God as he did in the beginning. After the battle, when his army, with God's help, defeated the Ethiopians, Azariah, son of Obed, was visited by the Spirit of God, and he went to meet Asa and reminded him that while he walked in the way of the Lord he would be successful. "Be ye strong, therefore, and let not your hands be weak: for your work shall be rewarded," he told Asa.

So Asa took courage and put away all the idols, even the one his own mother had set up in a grove, and he even removed her from being queen because of her idol worship. It is said that "the heart of Asa was perfect all his days," and there was no more war until the 35th year of his reign.

Asks Aid of Syria

In this year, however, Baasha, King of Israel, came and built close to Judah so that Asa could not come out and no one could go in to him. Now, instead of having faith in God that He would help him in this dispute, Asa sent presents to the king of Syria, reminding him of their league, and urging him to break any covenant he might have with Baasha and help him, Asa. And Benhadad, King of Syria, listened and sent his armies against Baasha, attacking many cities, so that Baasha stopped building against Asa and went home.

Now Hanani, the seer, heard of this and chided Asa for his lack of faith in calling on the Syrian king instead of on the Lord. Asa was angry with the prophet for this rebuke and put him in prison. On the whole, however, Asa was a very good king and died in the 39th year of his reign.

Faith in God and the ultimate good is a very wonderful thing. Very few seem able to feel it. Many profess faith and say they "cast their burdens on the Lord," but we find them worrying just the same. If we had a true faith that right would triumph and that God orders our lives and will help in all our troubles, we would never fret, would we?

So Asa "slept with his fathers . . . and they buried him in his own sepulchres, which he had made for himself in the city of David, and laid him in the bed which was filled with sweet odors and divers kinds of spices prepared by the apothecaries' art, and they made a very great burning for him."

Jehoshaphat, his son, succeeded him.

Asa, grandson of Rehoboam, was a good man and worshiped God; he took away the altars which had been built to strange gods and brake the idols

The reign of Asa brought peace to Judah, and in that time Asa built fenced cities, and because Asa walked in the way of the Lord the "land had rest."

The peace was broken by Zerah, the Ethiopian, who marched against Asa and his army with many times as many men as Asa and his people could muster.

Asa prayed the Lord to help him against his enemies, and the "Lord smote the Ethiopians before Asa and Judah and they fled.

POSTOFICE DEPARTMENT SEES SEVERAL MILLION DOLLARS AND HEADACHES, TOO, IN PLANS FOR NEW SERIES OF STAMPS

WASHINGTON (IP)—The postoffice department figured it will net several millions of dollars from the issuance of its proposed series of stamps honoring 35 famous Americans. But it appeared that it also would net several million headaches.

Not all of America agrees with the government's selection of the 35 inventors, authors, educators, poets, artists, composers an dscientists whose likenesses will appear on the new stamps.

Less than 24 hours after the department announced its plans for the series, complaints began arriving.

Lots of people wanted to know why Thomas A. Edison wasn't in the department's list of inventors, which included Alexander Graham Bell, Samuel F. B. Morse, Cyrus H McCormick, Eli Whitney, and Elias Howe. The department explained that a stamp already had been issued honoring Edison for his invention of the electric light.

But the department didn't explain why it omitted Edgar Allen Poe from its authors—Ralph Waldo Emreson, Mark Twain, Washington Irving, Louist May Alcott and James Fenimore Cooper. Others said what about Nathaniel Hawthorne and Horatio Alger?

Music lovers were stirred over the omission of George Gershwin from the composers—Stephen Foster, Victor Herbert, Edward McDowell, Ethelbert Nevin and John Philip Sousa. Kurt Hetzel, conductor of the Washington Civic Symphony, said Gershwin "doubtless will go down in history as one of our leading composers."

Among the painters and sculptors, some complained that Mary Cassett deserved a place along with the five selected — J. A. McNeill Whistler, ton, Augustus St. Gaudens and Dan-Gilbert Stuart, Frederick Remingiel Chester French.

In other groups, the department honored:

Poets—Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, James Russell Lowell, John Greenleaf Whittier, Walt Whitman and James Whitcomb Riley.
